

Baker & Lewis Leisure Products Awning Companion

NEW Awning Handy (available only in blue or red)

We are delighted to announce the release of Awning Handy. A brand new idea from Baker & Lewis Leisure Products for 2008. For the caravan user, who likes to use a cordless drill, for their ground pegs and steadies. You will now find this product lends itself to your requirements. Working on the same principle as Awning Companion, Awning Handy uses a 19 mm socket and drill adapter, to use with your cordless drill. Awning Handy is not openly available on the market and is only available from selected sources including this site.

Please note that the drill is pictured for demonstration purposes only & is not included in the price

Awning Handy comes with a 19mm socket and drill adapter as standard.

We do not supply cordless drills as standard, there is too much variety at too many different prices, we could not hope to cater for all tastes!

If demand dictates, we may consider stocking cordless drills, but only if demand is sufficient.

OUR ADVICE

If you intend to purchase a cordless drill, we recommend an 18 volt version in preference over 12 volts. They tend to have more power and be more reliable. There is a suitable range of products available from most DIY stores, to suit your price and taste.

WARNING

We recommend that when using your cordless drill for the first time. That you use the lowest setting on your drill first. When you are happy about the capabilities of your drill, then try it at a higher setting. Warnings are shown on both Awning Handy and its instruction leaflet
